Personal Bio:

Born and raised in Southern California, Glen graduated top of his class and decided to study Psychology at the University of Southern California. After graduating in 2.5 years and serving a full-time mission for the LDS Church, Glen was married to a close family friend, Kim and went on to study at the J. Reuben Clark Law School, graduating in 2013. They now have 5 wonderful children. Along the way he began a career in financial services which ultimately led him to an interest in serving people by helping them protect their families and their assets through estate planning.

Business Bio:

Glen is now the managing partner of Inter Vivos, PLLC an estate planning law firm headquartered in Orem, Utah. After starting in March of 2014, the firm became profitable within 4 months and began expanding shortly thereafter. It now has over 50 member attorneys with licenses and offices in 17 different states. With a unique and refreshing approach to the industry and a focus on specialty planning, Inter Vivos plans to continue expanding and expects to be a nationwide law firm by 2020. From there it will become the first and largest international estate planning law firm in the world.
